Re: Nathaniel Yee Participant Cost Award claim for the YEC Tlingit Homeland Energy EPA proceeding before the Yukon Utilities Board

This letter and the attached supporting information constitute my Participant Cost Award claim for the YEC Tlingit Homeland Energy EPA.

Completed forms 1 through 4 are attached, along with a more detailed time record.

This is my second time as an intervenor in front of the board, and I While I do not have previous experience in the world of public utility regulation, I do have years of relevant experience in the corporate world, with positions at General Motors, Electronic Data Systems and Gale, then a division of Thomson Publishing. I realize that all of this is still a learning process for me, and as such, my time claim is again based on an hourly rate of $35. I understand that the hourly rate is at the discretion of the Board.

I believe my ideas and approach added value to the process and noted that the Board was in agreement with a number of my conclusions. With recent news of the cost of the project increasing again, I worry that my concerns about YEC not having any viable alternatives may unfortunately be tested.

Sincerely,

Nathaniel Yee
